Online Auction Catalogue November 2020

Online fundraising event for:

EAT. PLAY. LOVE.

Connection and indulgence in a virtual space
November 2020

Sagesse's annual fundraiser returns.

Adapted to an online format

Welcome to our first online auction!

Eat. Play. Love. is a chance for us to gather as a community and indulge. This year, we will bring the same experiences, auctions, and pampering you've come to expect in a month-long virtual event.

While Eat. Play. Love. will look a little different this year, our mission remains the same – to empower individuals and provide support to those experiencing domestic violence.

1 in 3
Albertans

1 in 3 Albertans will experience domestic violence in their lifetime.

Now, more than ever.

History tells us that when a community is in crisis, as we are now, rates for domestic violence go up.

A domestic violence “shadow pandemic” is happening around the world. Violence against women has risen by up to 30% since people have been forced to stay isolated with their abusers.

People are looking for support. Sagesse is here to help.

Why Sagesse?

Sagesse is uniquely positioned to empower individuals, organizations and communities to break the cycle of domestic violence.

Even in the midst of this global pandemic, we are continuously focused on accessible, innovative and fact-based programming that will prevent domestic violence before it starts.

How can you get involved?

Join us! Your involvement in Eat. Play. Love. allows us to curate environments for healing and skill development that help people build the confidence and skills needed to lead safe, healthy lives. By raising funds for Sagesse, you are investing in your community and in real change.

Life Continues by Jefferson Kaine

30" x 24", mixed media on canvas

The First Day of Summer by Douglas Levitt

Oil on canvas, 28"x28"

In this painting, Doug represents the peace, energy and healing offered by nature. "In great times of stress, sorrow or other trouble, I've been always been drawn to nature — the mountains in particular. For me, this piece symbolizes the extra healing that new life brings with it during the renewal of spring and early summer (hence the title). There's a subtle range of storm clouds in the distance that symbolize the strife that life can bring and how keeping a grip on our inner strength and taking up our full space helps us weather those storms. So even though there is an element of struggle symbolized in the piece, it is a message of hope and renewal in the midst of it.

Oliver Stone Signed Book

Perhaps one of most controversial and politically-charged directors of his generation, Oliver Stone has made some of the most seminal and enduring films of any time. He's gone from being one of the most acclaimed directors in the world to being a divisive self-conscious provocateur. His style can be classically beautiful or experimental and savage, enormously effective or totally enervating... sometimes all within the same film, which makes him an exciting filmmaker.

In The Putin Interviews, the Oscar-winner delivers a first-hand look at one of the most important, powerful, and controversial leaders in the world: Vladimir Putin of Russia. This book is the companion to the documentary series, and includes the full transcript of their interviews, with substantial material not included in the documentary.

The book has been signed by Oliver Stone; certificate of authentication is included.
